

† pre-insulation-feature benchmark run (SC-BM / LP-BM): these predate the temperature constraint entirely, so pressure is the only possible cause; shown as a total rather than split, since they don't export the pipe-level columns the split is computed from.
 Data: analysis/model_results (base_utilization), two-pass classification -- see analysis/booster_cause_analysis.py / .xlsx.